

Supporting Survivors

How can you help?

SBRCC opened in July 2010. Through its trained staff & volunteer support workers it provides emotional & practical support & information to women & girls aged 12 & over who have experienced rape or sexual violence in their lives. The centre is run by women for women.

We have vacancies now for volunteer trustees, who have responsibility for the governance & strategic direction of the SBRCC. If you are a woman over 16 from any background & from anywhere in the Scottish Borders, would like to work with & for other women, & can spare a few hours a month, why not apply? Our meetings usually take place in Kelso; our office is in Galashiels. You don't need previous trustee experience: if you are appointed you will receive induction & training & have initial support from a more experienced trustee.

To start getting involved, ask for an application pack by:
e-mailing us at info@sbrcc.org ,
writing to us at SBRCC, 1a Wilderhaugh, Galashiels TD1 1PW, or telephoning us on 01896 661070.

Please return your application by Friday 9 October 2015.
